

Calmenda for Apple Watch®

Seeing the calendar week with the matching working days quickly and easily on your wrist saves time and is child's play using Calmenda on the Apple Watch.

Calmenda makes it easy and convenient to quickly determine the current or a certain calendar week using the Apple Watch.

Because everyone has already received the information that some goods or a product will only be delivered starting from a certain calendar week. This raises the question, in which period is this week? And this is exactly where Calmenda comes in on the Apple Watch and quickly and easily provides you with the current or a selected calendar week with the corresponding date.

The app clearly displays the calendar week with the associated working days as well as the calendar year in an easy-to-read format.

The calendar week is presented in segmented digits using the KSE Chromea LC Type 4 font, which was specifically developed for mobile devices and offers faster visual perception.

Settings can be configured. The status bar indicates whether it is a leap year with 53 calendar weeks. A short audio signal sounds when selecting the calendar week and the calendar year — With „Today“ the current calendar week with the corresponding working days is displayed directly.
